Transnational British Symposium presents

Gautam Premnath

Assistant Professor of English at University of Nevada-Reno

"The Lodging House in the Postwar Literary Imagination"

This talk explores the lodging house as a site of imaginative investment in British literature by writers such as Doris Lessing, Colin MacInnes, and V S Naipaul in the two decades after World War II.

Date: Friday, May 1st

Time: 11:00 am

Place: CBS 114 (College Building South)

Sponsored by the Center for Ideas and Society and the English Department