

Caste and Corporeality

April 12 - May 24, 2024

This conference on caste and corporeality brings together studies of caste, which have historically been the remit of the social sciences, with discourses of the body, which are rooted in the arts and humanities, to think about the body as a site of caste violence and caste reproduction as well as a site of refuge and healing from caste oppression. The conference will feature panels, workshops, and presentations by anti-caste scholars, artists, and activists.

4/12 @ 10-1pm — Workshop: Introduction to Caste, Intersectionality, and Allyship (hybrid)

4/19 @ 10-11:30am — Panel: Caste and Religion (virtual)

4/26 @ 10-11:30am — Panel: Caste and Food (virtual)

4/27 @ 6-9pm — Presentation: Come Eat With Me (in person)

5/10 @ 10-11:30am — Panel: Caste and Touch (virtual)

5/17 @ 10-11:30am — Panel: Caste and Space (virtual)

5/24 @ 10-11:30am — Panel: Caste and Performance (virtual)

Co-sponsored by UCHRI, CIS, Department of Dance, and Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
